PRIVATE LESSONS

In addition to our in studio private lessons, we are now offering a Zoom option as well! Private classes can be a great supplement to existing classes or a safe way to continue dancing for those unable to attend regular classes at this time. Through our private lessons, our teachers will develop a dancer specific training program for your dancer and provide them with their full one on one support and attention.

Here are the top five benefits of private training...

1. Private classes allow dancers to have access to the entire studio space, allowing them to perform "full out" and expand their technical training.

2. Private training is an excellent way to fast track your dancers' training. With one on one support and personalized options, your dancer can quickly condition their body for optimal performance in just a few lessons. Our teachers will happily target where your dancer can grow and offer them supplemental exercises to practice at home.

3. Another benefit of private training is your dancer can choose or we can advise you on the techniques that should be focused on in your private lessons. From hip-hop to ballet, we can accommodate your needs with fine attention to detail in the growth of performance and technique.

4. Scheduling can be flexible to meet your family's needs.

5. Private training is an amazing way to boost your dancers' confidence as well as spark motivation and passion.
